

Thomas Becket Catholic School achieved its best ever results in the Summer 2016 examination season with outstanding grades being reached by a large number of students, both at GCSE and A level. This is testament to the hard work of students and staff alike, supported of course by parents and carers. It was a time for celebration.

From the start of the new school year in September there has been a real buzz of learning and excitement for what the year ahead will bring. The Headteacher, Mr Jon Davis, has set out his vision, driving forward on a relentless improvement agenda to secure a bright future for Thomas Becket as a great Catholic secondary school; unleashing the school's potential to systematically secure its position amongst the very best. So, a relentless focus on learning, progress, good learning skills, uniform, teamwork, pride, resilience and good old fashioned hardwork; attributes that will enable students to succeed not only in school but throughout their adult life too. In addition, a renewed focus on the five core values of the school: Faith, Justice, Compassion, Truth and Respect; reflecting the school's unique position as the only Catholic secondary school in Northamptonshire.

Since April 2016 the school has been operational as an Academy under the auspices of the St Thomas of Canterbury trust; governance is still hugely important at school level. Thomas Becket Catholic School is looking to expand its school committee. If you are a parent/carer or a member of our community who has a real will, passion, and of course some time to help at this important time in the school's forward journey, the school would love to hear from you.
